| ECU University | Student Equity, Diversity and Disability Service
 The ECU Equity, Diversity and Disability Service provides support for students with diverse study needs, particularly students with a permanent or temporary disability or medical condition which may impact on their participation at ECU or who care for a family member with a disability or medical condition. This support may include:
  • liaison with academic staff about any potential barriers you may face and any reasonable adjustments that may be required
  • alternative format study materials
  • alternative assessment and examination conditions
  • access to a range of assistive equipment, software and technology
  • provision of note-takers, scribes or Auslan interpreters
  • Library assistance | If you wish to register or just to find out more information about your options, telephone the Equity, Diversity and Disability Service on 9370 6960 or email studentequity@ecu.edu.au for a confidential discussion. |
We encourage you to contact the Equity and Social Inclusion Office as early as possible so that we can talk with you about your specific needs and concerns.

Don’t wait for there to be a problem; we want you to know that professional help is available when you need it. Making contact early with Disability staff will assist you to get the best from your Murdoch enrolment.

Disability Support
Notre Dame is committed to providing an environment for students that is supportive and free from discrimination. The University strongly supports the admission of students with a disability and encourages those students to seek assistance from the Disability Support Office to ensure they can participate in their course of study on equal terms with other students.

The Disability Support Office is also responsible for the management of each student’s Learning Access Plan (LAP) and recommendations for reasonable adjustments.

UniAccess provides free services and support to UWA students who want to disclose a disability or a medical condition and request assistance.

UniAccess staff are equipped to recommend the best options to enable your participation. We provide an individual assessment of your needs and then work with you to plan the approach that will work best.

A disability officer can also provide information to prospective students and their families.
